Earn $16 an hour as a Student Research Associate with the Physician Assistant Leadership and Learning Academy (PALLA).

The Physician Assistant Leadership and Learning Academy (PALLA) in the Graduate School (www.graduate.umaryland.edu/) at the University of Maryland, Baltimore (UMB) is seeking a student research associate to participate in data gathering activities working with faculty on research projects.

The ideal student should be enrolled in one of the graduate (master's or doctoral) programs in the Graduate School and be familiar with basic data gathering methods in educational research.

Applicants must be proficient in Microsoft Excel and preference will be provided for applicants with knowledge and experience with statistical software packages. It is anticipated that this is a short- term assignment and the student would work approximately 8 hours per week.
